Expertise

Julian is a built heritage expert, delivering great client service and pragmatic solutions for heritage places that facilitate adaptive re-use and engagement.

Julian's work includes conservation advice, heritage impact assessment and heritage management reports for the public and private sectors, and strategic frameworks for heritage places in the context of change for major infrastructure, residential, transport, educational and healthcare projects, as well as for former industrial sites.

Julian sits on Chinese Garden of Friendship Advisory Committee for Place Management NSW, and is on Australia ICOMOS' National Executive Committee where he energetically contributes to enhancing public engagement in our culturally diverse heritage.

Experience

At Context, Julian works on a variety of built heritage assessment, development, adaptive reuse and interpretation projects. His knowledge of heritage planning and advanced project management skills has seen him successfully coordinate major projects for State and Commonwealth government clients in NSW and Victoria. Julian's advisory services has contributed to a multitude of signature development projects in Sydney and Melbourne. Julian is also adept in community consultation and engagement with Traditional Owner organisations.

Julian's work sees him coordinating, resourcing and tailoring solutions to deliver on the expectations of clients, projects and communities. He enjoys collaborating with design professionals, site owners, developers and industry organisations to deliver projects that balance heritage conservation with urban renewal and creative design responses.
